

A wireframe face composed of blue lines, with two glowing red eyes. The background is dark blue with faint digital patterns.

CYBERKILL

HOW FAR WOULD AN ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE GO FOR REVENGE?

A young girl with dark hair is shown in profile, looking intently at a glowing digital hand reaching out from the right. Her finger is touching the tip of the digital hand's index finger. The scene is set against a dark blue background with digital patterns.
